Your adviser is identified by name on the Confirmation issued to you for each transaction.

When providing financial services to you, we act on our own behalf and not on behalf of any third-party product issuers or service providers.

E. How to provide instructions to us...

As time is of the essence in 'live' markets, providing instructions to buy and sell securities by telephone, directly with your adviser is always preferred. You may also use email or other electronic means as agreed with your adviser, however, instructions received by email or any other electronic means will not be executed until they have been verified by call-back with you. Further information on how you may provide instructions to us and our terms and conditions for accepting your instructions are in the PhillipCapital Account Application Terms and Conditions. PhillipCapital reserves the right to accept or decline any order.

F. More about our dealing services...

'Dealing services' means buying, selling, applying for, or redeeming financial products on behalf of clients. Advice to do or not do these things is a separate service.

Best Execution Policy

PhillipCapital has adopted a policy in relation to its best execution obligations under the ASIC Market Integrity Rules (Securities Markets) 2017 (MIR). Our Best Execution Policy is available at www.phillipcapital.com.au.

Primary Market

From time to time, PhillipCapital can provide you with access to investment opportunities made available by an issuer rather than someone selling on market. These involve applying for, or redeeming, financial products. Your PhillipCapital can assist you make applications for Initial Public Offerings (IPOs) and other new issues of securities (e.g. shares) or interests in managed investment schemes (e.g. equity trust units).

Secondary Market

Secondary Market transactions are dealt on market, meaning with ASX, Cboe, Singapore and other globally recognised markets, and financial products have already been issued.

Before using our dealing services for the first time, we require you to substantiate your identity and to confirm settlement arrangements.

PhillipCapital has immediate access to certain Markets when they are open, to their order execution and transaction settlement platforms. Subject to the relevant dealing and settlement regulations, PhillipCapital will accept and transact orders placed by you or your duly appointed Authorised Person on your behalf and will facilitate settlement.

There may be circumstances in which PhillipCapital will not be able to accept order instructions, but they are most unlikely, and we would give you or your duly Authorised Person reasons for not doing so and where we can will assist with alternative arrangements.

A Confirmation will be despatched directly to you via the email address nominated by you on the Account Application, following execution of a market transaction. It confirms the detail of the transaction, the contractual terms and conditions which applied to the transaction and, also serves as a Tax Invoice. You can also nominate for an additional person to receive a copy of your Confirmations upon request.

For ASX and Cboe traded products, we urge you to have us CHESS sponsor your holdings (i.e. select CHESS Sponsorship in our Account Application). This service has many advantages and minimises the risk of failed settlement of sell transactions, which incurs additional fees.

Market Transactions may be cancelled by ASX and Cboe

ASX and Cboe both have the power, when Market integrity is at stake, because of a trading error, to cancel or amend a market transaction (or reinstate an order) which has been executed. Cancellation of an executed transaction would mean the loss of the benefit of the market price and other entitlements flowing from the transaction. Amendment of a transaction may have a similar impact. You would not be entitled to any compensation from us, ASX or Cboe.

H More about our advisory services...

PhillipCapital is committed to providing sound and relevant advice in a professional manner. However, it is important for our clients to understand the types of advice being provided to them.

'Advisory services' means recommendations or opinion, whether in written or report form or provided verbally by an adviser, that are intended to influence a person in making an investment decision. 'Advice' falls within one of two categories, either general financial product advice (General Advice) (Refer Section I) or personal financial product advice (Personal Advice) (refer Section J).

In technical terms, our advice will only ever be General Advice and will be limited General Advice at best. PhillipCapital will never provide Personal Advice to you.

"Our advice is primarily General Advice - it's up to you to decide if it's suitable for you."

"This advice is general; it may not be right for your current circumstances"

The fact that you may see our General Advice (e.g. research or Model Portfolios) does not mean we are providing advice tailored to you personally or that we have an ongoing advisory service relationship with you directly.

What are the limitations of research, newsletters, and other opinions we provide?

Research and other General Advice presents the opinion of specialist analysts, and the assumptions on which that opinion is based means that forecast performance cannot be guaranteed. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future investment performance. A recommendation or rating may only be valid for a limited time and is often subject to movements in market price.

Just because you see that a product is recommended or rated in a report or a newsletter as a 'buy', 'sell', 'hold', 'accumulate', 'underweight', 'overweight', 'neutral', 'out-perform' or 'under-perform' does not mean that recommendation is appropriate for you specifically.

PhillipCapital recommends you seek independent financial advice, before acting on any report or recommendation presented in a newsletter or any other form.

I. General Advice

General Advice is a rating or assessment based solely on the attributes of the financial product, the portfolio or investment strategy alone without considering whether it is also appropriate for someone's financial circumstances.

General Advice includes research reports and newsletters. It may also be provided verbally. You must not assume that PhillipCapital's research recommendations or ratings are appropriate for you personally. The process of profiling a client's circumstances and objectives is not relevant in relation to General Advice. General Advice may be derived from fundamental analysis (i.e. analysis of financial reports) or technical analysis (patterns in market trading and price-movement behaviour).

General Advice will be accompanied by the warning that the advice is not a recommendation that a particular transaction is not personally appropriate for any particular person, and that you will need to consider (guided by your financial service provider whether acting on the advice is appropriate in light of your financial circumstances).

If a Disclosure document or PDS is relevant for the product recommendation, the warning will also highlight the need, before making a decision to invest, to ensure you read and carefully consider the Disclosure document or PDS.

The fact that you may see our General Advice (e.g. research) does not mean we are providing advice tailored to you personally.

J. Personal Advice

Personal Advice recommends a product as being appropriate for a client personally, following consideration of their personal financial circumstances and investment objectives.

PhillipCapital will not provide this category of advice.

A Statement of Advice ('SoA') is only relevant in the context of Personal Advice, not General Advice.

K. What about the matter of 'Investment Risk'?

By 'risk' we mean the possibility that you will suffer some financial harm by investing. Your preparedness and capacity to carry a particular level or type(s) of risk in pursuit of your investment strategy is a fundamental element of your financial circumstances.

General risk disclosure statement and guidance for investors

We will explain to you any significant risks associated with investments or strategies which we recommend to you. If we do not do so, you should ask us to explain those risks to you.

Other Risks

In general, the risk of investing in financial products can be categorised in the following manner however, these do not purport to be complete because it would not be feasible to list all the possible risks in each category.

Equity securities

Equity securities in common with all the other asset classes (e.g. interest rate securities and property investments) can decline in value as well as appreciate. The measure of this change in value is often referred to as 'volatility'. The more the value varies over time, the more volatile the asset is and therefore the more risk involved in investing in it. On the other hand the less volatile an asset is, the less likelihood there is for any significant capital gain or loss from investing in that asset.

Equity securities (e.g. shares) are generally more volatile than other asset classes however, the markets for other asset classes are not as efficient or transparent as the stock market in terms of the information available to investors and the process for continuously determining and making public the real market value of the particular asset. For this reason the real volatility of those other assets is often not fully appreciated.

Exchange traded options (ETO)

ETOs carry significant risks and are not suitable for all investors. Depending on the options strategies used, you could lose the entire amount of collateral lodged. You should ensure you understand these products fully before deciding whether or not to invest in them. You must read and understand the PhillipCapital's Exchange Traded Options Product Disclosure Statement before commencing trading in ETOs. PhillipCapital only offers General Advice for ETOs.

Overall market risk

This is the risk of loss by reason of movements in the share market generally. These movements can be caused by any number of factors including political, economic, taxation or legislative factors. Specific examples are changes in interest rates, political changes, changes in taxation or superannuation laws, international crises or natural disasters.

Limitations of research

By 'research' we are referring to printed material that expresses an opinion about particular securities, companies or economic news.

The research produced internally and/or outsourced by PhillipCapital, is basically the opinion of specialist analysts. It can never be guaranteed and it is only valid for a limited time and is often subject to market movements. For example, for short term investors a 'buy' recommendation could turn into a 'sell' recommendation if the market price of a share appreciated by a small amount. For the longer term investor, this market movement may not be significant, although a larger movement may be.

The mere fact that an entity is recommended by an analyst in a research report as a "Buy", "Sell" or a "Hold" does not necessarily mean that the entity or that recommendation is a suitable investment for you. The recommendation is based on consideration of the investment merits of the entity alone.

You should always consult your adviser before acting on any research report. Likewise, any share price targets that may be forecast in a report are based on particular assumptions made by the analyst at the time the report is prepared. A forecast 'target' price is not a guarantee that the price will actually reach that level

L. PhillipCapital Remuneration and Benefits

How are we remunerated and what other benefits might we receive for the services we provide?

PhillipCapital may be paid in one or any combination of the following ways:

- you may be charged brokerage on each transaction executed on your behalf;
- we may be paid by the financial product issuer after you invest or contract;
- in special circumstances, we may receive performance-based fees;
- we may participate in FX buy/sell spreads.
- we may charge a fee for service

GST is payable on all our charges.

How are our representatives remunerated?

PhillipCapital's Client advisers are remunerated primarily on a commission basis. The Advisors' actual share of brokerage varies, based on the level of brokerage written each month. The Advisors may also earn a portion of lodgement fees for IPOs and placements (paid by the issuing companies) and receive a trail commission from financial product providers, such as margin lenders or cash management account providers

The remuneration of PhillipCapital's adviser is only paid where permitted by Future of Financial Advice laws; for example, under a payment arrangement that is allowed under transitional provisions or where a client consents to and directed that the payment be made. The remuneration is determined by all revenue attributable to the adviser.

All other representatives are remunerated by salary or bonus based on performance.

M The range of our transactional charges

Securities quoted for trading on markets

Brokerage rates are fixed, for details please refer to www.poemstrade.com.au/fees.

Brokerage charged on each purchase or sale on an Australian market exchange or foreign market exchange is calculated as a percentage of the dollar value of the transaction plus goods and service tax (GST) subject to an agreed flat minimum fee.

Brokerage Example: If the amount transacted online is $10,000 and the brokerage rate is .12%, with a minimum of $19.80, the brokerage will be $19.80 (inclusive of GST).

If the amount transacted online is $20,000 and the brokerage rate is .12%, with a minimum of $19.80, the brokerage will be $26.40 (inclusive of GST).

For a purchase, the brokerage, together with any applicable duty or tax, is added to the transaction value and the total is the overall consideration due to PhillipCapital. For a sale, the brokerage, together with any duty or tax payable, is deducted from your proceeds.

Managed Investments

Initial commissions are a part of the entry fee charged by some fund managers when you place investment monies in their products.

The fund manager retains a portion of the entry fee and, where permitted by law, a portion may be paid to PhillipCapital. Similarly, where the law allows, the fund manager may pay an ongoing commission to PhillipCapital from the management fee charged on your investment.

Entry fees are charged by some fund managers whether you place the investment through PhillipCapital or directly with the fund manager. Entry fees range from 0% up to 8% for international managed funds.

Fail Fees and Late Payment Charges

If you fail to settle a transaction by the time and date shown on the Confirmation you will be charged a 'processing fee in addition to charges detailed below:

Sales: If you fail to settle a sale by the time and date shown on the Confirmation you will be charged "fail fee".

To reduce the cost of fail fees charged by ASX, FinClear will attempt to borrow the stock to cover settlement, in this case FinClear fail fees will apply. Ultimately, the unsettled position may be bought-back at your risk and expense.

Please note if you are assigned on a Call Option(s) and you are not the registered holder of the underlying security in CHESS prior to assignment this may result in a failed settlement and incur a fail fee. Ultimately, the underlying security may be bought-back at your risk and expense.

Purchases: If you fail to settle a purchase transaction in full by the time and date shown on the Confirmation, you could be charged a funding cost depending on the transaction type or size of the transaction, ultimately, the holding may be sold-out in the market at your risk and expense.
